Dr. Charles Butterfield
Chadron State College
Chadron, Ne 69337

I attended Chadron State College (CSC) from August 2002 to December 2006. I received a Bachelor of Science Degree In Range Management (Comprehensive) with a minor in Wildlife Management. In my opinion, Drs. Charles Butterfield and Georgia Younglove played an integral role in my successes and subsequent acceptance into Graduate School at the University of Wyoming. Charles and Georgia have a wealth of knowledge and expertise in the courses they teach, and they truly want students to succeed. The hands on experiences and learning coupled with the relatively small class sizes helped me to get the most out of my Range Management, Animal Science, and Wildlife Management courses.

In terms of CSC as a whole, I believe in CSC's "liberal arts" course loads that are required of enrolled students. A wide array of required courses, from public speaking to U.S. History, prepares students for the challenging aspects of life in the "real world".

I would definitely recommend CSC to prospective students whose interests lie in any major CSC has to offer, and highly recommend CSC to those students interested in Range Management or Animal Science.

Sincerely,
